Completeness

This map is a work in progress, at the moment it shows the sandline only but over time it will be enriched with more depth measures and details of the isolated reef.
Please check viz.org.au for the latest and reach out to vizgroupsydney@gmail.com for comments.

Depths

Depths have been normalised to zero tide hence the actual depth can be up to 2 metres more.

Safety

This map is an aid and not a replacement to proper knowledge of the dive site. Take into account a possible current once you leave the coast going East, it can be going North or South.
